Terrill Collier, Wendy Robinson share top volunteer honors

TREE Fund Trustee Wendy Robinson and Terrill Collier (both of Oregon) received matching beer steins at the 2013 ISA Conference in gratitude for their work on behalf of the TREE Fund in 2012.

Wendy is a tireless champion of the TREE Fund and spearheaded the Pacific Northwest ISA Chapter's auction to benefit the TREE Fund. "Wendy has gone above and beyond the call of duty," wrote one nominator. Terrill helped with the planning and logistics for the 2012 STIHL Tour des Trees. As one supporter put it, "Terrill Collier and his family have a long and prosperous association with the TREE Fund. Terrill has given not only materially, but also personally and something that only he can give – his never ending passion."

The Ken Ottman Volunteer of the Year Award honors an individual who has made a significant contribution to the TREE Fund during the previous year. With the record number of submissions and the high quality of the candidates, the award committee comprised of past recipients Mike Neal, John Lloyd, Jim Zwack, John Goodfellow and Jim Barborinas, made the unprecedented move of awarding two beer steins for the year.

Congratulations and THANK YOU to the TREE Fund's Volunteers of the Year for 2012!
